65 candidates qualify

Sixty-five candidates had qualified by press time Wednesday for the Aug. 7 Democratic primary for county offices and the number is expected to climb substantially before the deadline at 5 p.m. Friday, June 7. Meanwhile formal announcements were forthcoming this week from four aspirants. Clarence M. Lader of Fenton said he will seek re-election as state representative. R. G. (Manny) Hubbard, Jr., of Waveland came out for a fourth term as Beat 5 member of the board of supervisors and Alvin Genin, oil firm executive, is making his political debut in seeking that post. Also announcing is Ora Holden for the Beat 1 justice of the peace.

Office of sheriff and tax collector has the biggest field to date with nine candidates qualified both with Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis and Democratic Committee Secretary Leo Seal, Jr. Both remind that under the new state law 5 p.m. rather than midnight is the final hour to qualify next Friday. Running in order of filing are Ernest F. Cuevas, Norman J. Benigno, T. W. Egloff, H. (Bully) Zengering, Sylvan J. Lader, Jr., Gerald V. Price, Jr., Oresae P. Lader, W. A. (Fred) Curet, Jr., and Herman J. Mazarakis.

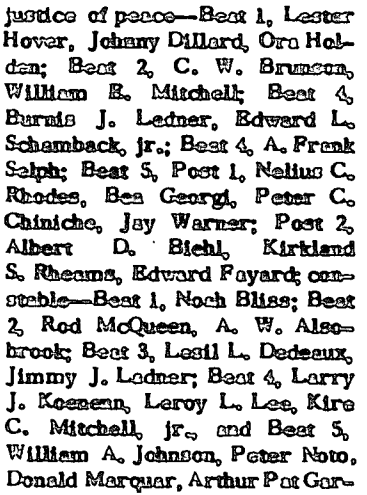

Only three are qualified for the state senate seat shared with Pearl River County—James A. Kester, August Holden and John A. Scalfide, although several more have announced. Clarence Lader is the lone one to file for representative.

Other offices at stake and those qualifying to run for them are:

Chancery clerk—A. C. Mitchell, E. E. Breland; circuit clerk, Lamar Otis, W. M. Randall; tax assessor—George E. Heitzmann; superintendent of education—Arthur F. Neelase, Kenneth G. McCarry, Robert F. Lader; coroner—Oswald L. Villere, Edward J. Poydus, Emilio G. Piazza, Oren J. Boudrie; board of supervisors—Beat 1, Harlan G. Dean; Beat 2, none; Beat 3, Joseph A. Cuevas, Area J. Hoda, P. S. Shaw, Charles N. Shaw, Verdo J. Loder; Beat 4, Jervio Moran, James A. Neelase; Beat 5, Russell J. Elliott, Hubbard, Genin, August J. Scalfide.

NOTES ORATION

Rev. Richard W. Long, C. M., widely known on the coast, will offer solemn mass of thanksgiving on his 25th anniversary of ordination to the priesthood at noon Sunday at St. Thomas Church, Long Beach.

KO polio make-up scheduled

Approximately 9,300 Hancock Countyans turned out at six stations throughout the county to receive their second oral polio vaccine Sunday, Dr. John B. Levens, chairman of the County Medical Society's KO Polio Project, announces.

Two make-up stations will again be open today through Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. Those persons who were unable to get their lump of sugar may do so at the emergency room at Hancock General Hospital or the clinic at Kila Church of the Annunciation.

Sunday's count was about 1,700 short of the first dose given April 21. Three doses are needed for complete immunization - the final to be administered Sept. 22.

Largest turnout was at S. J. Ingram School, used as a substitute for Bay Youth Center, where about 3,500 showed up. Other counts, Dr. Levens said, roughly were 1,500 at Hancock North Central, 1,500 at Waveland, 1,000 at Volean C. Jones, and 800 at Clearmont-Lakeshore Youth Center and Loggona School.

Final approval to a revised zoning map of Bay St. Louis was given Tuesday night by the City Planning Commission and the ordinance forwarded to Commission Council for public hearing, publication and adoption.

The changes emanating from an informal public hearing conducted by the planners earlier in the spring include extension of the M-1 classification at the L and N depot to the business district opposite on Blaine Avenue and south to Ballentine Street to the railroad tracks; moving Graham Heights sub-division from B-2 to R-3, extending the beach front business district south to include Merchants Bank and Insurance Agency and Bill's Dollar Store and reclassifying that portion on the beach side from R-5 to B-2.

Uses permitted in R-3 areas were modified to include erection of hotels and motels upon approval of the planning commission.

The revised map was presented by Neil Mosholder of Robert S. Bateman and Associates, mobile planning consultants, following unanimous instructions from the commission last month, according to Secretary Howard Adams.

Joe B. Burrow, vice chairman, presided at Tuesday night's session in the absence of Fred Wagner. A delegation composed of some members of the Bay St. Louis Development and Expansion Committee and others argued at length for commercial use of more property along U. S. 90 and zoning along the beach front to permit motels and hotels.

Stewart, Lee win Legion medals at HNC

Betty Stewart and Richard Lee won the American Legion medals at the Hancock North Central School graduation exercises last Thursday night for which Secretary of State Heber Lader was principal speaker. Lader emphasized the importance of furthering one's education.

Winning scholarships to Pearl River Junior College in recognition of winning high honors were Howard Lee, valedictorian, and Kathleen Lee, salutatorian. Carol Lois Bounds received the $25 U. S. savings bond given by Fulton's Sudio to the senior who has maintained a high scholastic average, assumed leadership and was outstanding in cooperating with students and faculty.

Special medals went to Kathleen Lee, English; Ira John Neelase, agriculture; Cheryl Cuevas, home economics; Roddie Bibb, science; Ann Lee, history; John Arizer, mathematics; Ron Lee Lader, citizenship; and Lowell Moran, band.

Three students who already have been awarded band scholarships to PRJC are Lowell Moran, Lovann Sones and Ann Wickman. In addition to the two top honor students, four members of the class of 61 graduated with honors: Lela Bounds, Carolyn Lader, Ann Harriel and Lowell Moran.

Play it calm

Two-day's flourish in Jackson of physical actions arising out of race relation problems brings closer to home the increasing magnitude of this problem, not just in Mississippi and the South but in Philadelphia and elsewhere outside the South.

Lead and learned editorials could be written on the supreme court's decision of last week and the implications stemming from it such as its danger as a precedent for cases in other fields. For the present it seems to us that such would be wasted effort.

Right now the thing to think of primary importance is that people in the South, right now particularly in Jackson, the sensible people, negro and white, should remain calm. And certainly officialdom should not encourage disorder by whites just because rebellious negroes ask for trouble.

Yesterday's news account in the Times-Picayune indicates, however, that the mayor is doing just that. However, we hope the whites who assaulted the negro sit-in yesterday, and any who do so in the future, are treated as the law breakers they are. Any other action just gives added impetus for punitive federal legislation, by congress and the supreme court.

CLARENCE M. LADNER

CANDIDATE FOR
re-election
as State Representative

Clarence M. Ladner announces his candidacy for re-election as State Representative of Hancock County.

To the voters of Hancock County, since this office is so important and the responsibility so great to the proper representation of the people of Hancock County, I use this means of submitting to you my candidacy for re-election with sincerity and humility.

I was born in the Fenton Community, Hancock County, Nov. 27, 1915. I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole M. Ladner, I graduated from Dedham High School in 1935 and from Pearl River Junior College in 1937. I taught school in Hancock County for the next 17 years continuing my education at the University of Mississippi between school sessions. I am married to the former Miss Vanda Mae Middleton of Bay St. Louis, who is now teaching at Bay High. We have 3 children - Deanne (Mrs. R. L. Taylor) Charleston, S. C.; Clarence, Jr., a junior at Miss. State University, and Marilyn, a senior at Bay High School.

It has long been my ambition to serve the people of my county in an official capacity. In 1959 you elected me as your State Representative and your vote of confidence has been an inspiration to me to regard my commission as sacred. As I lay this commission on the line again I do so without fears or regret of any act performed by me. I say in all humility that I have tried to cast your vote in the House of Representatives so as to bring pride to the people of my county for having elected me.

My record in the Legislature will reflect that I introduced and effected passage of a law to bring Hancock County under the Port and Harbor laws of the state. This should have been done at the same time the other coast counties came under it. With proper administration this act will play a most important part in the industrial development of our county. Although we expect an economic boom in the near future we must continue to push for other industries to locate here in order to provide employment opportunities for our people. I am interested in the indigent sick and I voted for a supported legislation for better care for our sick. In order that it would be more convenient for the sick in the northern part of the county to go to the hospital in Piquem, I introduced a bill to amend the three coast county pact to allow the Board of Supervisors to contribute to these indigent sick, who because of convenience, go to the Piquem Hospital.

I co-authored and worked for the passage of a milk price stabilization law when it looked as if a monopoly on milk was about to be formed.

I co-authored and worked for a teacher's pay raise which was passed in the amount of $600 for the 4 years. I opposed a third factor or results of a national teacher commission to determine the salary of our teachers. I will continue to oppose this method of setting salaries until we raise the teachers' pay scale commensurate to other southern states or national averages.

I also co-authored a bill to provide transportation for students attending P.R.C. thus making it possible for more Hancock boys and girls to go to college.

I voted and worked for the passage of the bill to raise the old age benefit to $50 per month as compared to $32 in 1959. I realize that much has been done in the last 4 years to attract industry and raise the standard of living in our state, but I think that the best is yet to come. I believe that it is essential that we have someone in the Legislature who has the interest of the people at heart, who has the ability to command the respect of his colleagues in the House as well as the ability to get the job done and who is willing to be a full-time Representative and devote his every effort to the welfare of the people of our county. I submit to you that I possess these qualities and if you re-elect me, I will continue to help everyone and represent all the people all of the time.

Harry hears ... A look at the majors

With one quarter of the 1963 major league baseball season in the record books, the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants appear headed toward another down-to-the-wire race in the National League while only the sight of the New York Yankees in the American League can be termed "expected".

The Giants have led nearly all season in the National League but the Dodgers have been hot-as-fire the past couple of weeks. Frisco cooled off L. A. somewhat by taking the Dodgers two-out-of-three over the weekend in Candlestick Park but it shouldn't be enough to slow Los Angeles' momentum.

Needing comfortably in third place in the National League are the St. Louis Cardinals who are collecting just enough home runs to leave 10 or 15 men stranded each game and scoring just few enough runs to keep from winning every day. Chicago's heavy-hitting Cubs and Pittsburgh rounded out the N. L.'s first division starting play this week although the surging Cincinnati Reds appear ready to challenge back. The Reds finally moved above .500 late last week only to drop both sessions of a Sunday doubleheader to the Philadelphia Phillies.

Baltimore Orioles are the topic of conversation in the American League at the moment, as were the Kansas City Athletics three weeks ago, the Chicago White Sox two weeks back, and the Boston Red Sox seven days ago. But, when the smoke clears seven or eight American League teams will have had their fling and the New York Yankees will as usual be atop the heap.

If any team is going to seriously threaten Yankee domination this summer it appears to be Baltimore. The Orioles have good pitching, power hitting, and a lot of spirit. Steve Barber is 8-3 as a starting hurler and with proper batting support could well be 12-0. Big Jim Gentile and Boog Powell supply much of the home run hitting while White Sox trade Luis Aparicio steers a fast infield.

It's rather bleak in Houston

Of local interest is the continued hitting slump of the Houston Colts, adapted by many people of this area. Unfortunately, Colt pitching is also beginning to slump also and as we've stated before it looks like the .45s are destined for the lower regions of the National League's second division.

Rookie bonus baby Rusty Staub of New Orleans can't seem to hit major league pitching as was expected. Staub, still a teen-ager, is supposed to be the golden boy to lead the Colts to the promised land but is batting below the .250 mark and is yet to hit his first home run. Hailed by Ted Williams as the best-swinging south-paw he has ever seen, Staub has great potential and with improvement could very well be one of the majors' top stars. However, we said potential not ready-made genius. He still needs seasoning! Until the last week, Houston pitching could only be called phenomenal. Dick (Turk) Farrell has to be one of the best in the business—formerly a short-man in the bullpen who threw nothing but fastballs and was notably wild, he now is a strong nine-inning hurler who strikes out one man-per-inning yet issues bases-on-balls at the rate of only about one-per-game. Dick Drott has pitched two shutouts in four starts since joining the club, Don Nottebart tossed a no-hitter two weeks back, and Hal Woodcock after numerous brilliant relief appearances has an earned run average of almost nothing. The Colts are lacking a left-handed starter, though, and better come up with one quick!

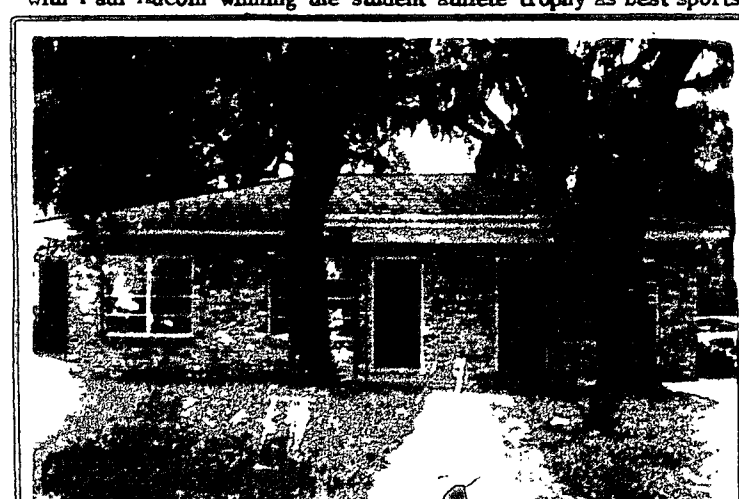

The LA Angels finally got rid of world-famous pitcher Bo Belinsky, at least temporarily, when they sent him to the minors. Belinsky in his two-year career has been noted for late (or should we say early!) hours but until recently was able to keep his job because of one big asset—unusual talent for getting batters out.

We agree Belinsky has a lot to learn. It's time he got away from the bright lights of Los Angeles and the bright eyes of his fiancée, actress Mamie Van Doren. However, we can't agree with the Angels' choice of minor league location for Bobo. Even Belinsky smiled when first told he now pitches for Hawaii. Please, Bo, how's about staying off the beaches.

Candidate for
re-election

Supervisor Beat 5
Hancock County

TO THE VOTERS OF BEAT 5:
When campaigning for election to office, promises are made which are intended to "sway" the voters. Each candidate thinks he is the best qualified for the office he is seeking, and tries to impress you by offering a platform which, if possible to accomplish, would be the ultimate in government.

Unlike most candidates, I have never offered a platform, and the only campaign promise I ever made was "to conduct my office with dignity, honesty and sincerity, being conscientious and untiring in my efforts to serve you." This I have done throughout the years I have served you on the Board of Supervisors. I worked unceasingly to bring about a sound, progressive government in Hancock County, putting forth my best effort to serve you well, with foresight in the expenditure of public funds, and good judgment in dealing with problems which effect your welfare.

Because SOUND LEADERSHIP IS EXEMPLIFIED BY ACTIONS AND NOT MERE WORDS, our county has made greater strides in the past ten years than in its entire history, in sound management and solid achievements. Many of you know that some of the projects accomplished did not come easily. Very often it was an up-hill fight, with a new obstacle at every turn. Your confidence in my integrity and leadership has been as gratifying to me as has been the satisfaction of the achievements made.

We have come a long way. With the opportunity of expansion and growth such as we anticipate in the immediate future, and your knowledge of my policies and experience in public office, I hope you will enable me to continue to serve you by re-electing me to the Board of Supervisors.

Sincerely yours,
R. G. (MANNY) HUBBARD

Mike Chapman races

After a long wait, Mike Chapman won the annual Bay-Waveland Yacht Club regatta last weekend in Gulfport. Chapman, who finished fourth last weekend in the annual Chapman Trophy Regatta at Gulfport, won the regatta with a four-race total of 36 1/2 points. Gulfport's host club totaled 331 1/4. Pass Christian 272, and Bay-Waveland 228 1/4 points in the annual affair for Mississippi Yachting Assn. members.

Dick Reeves sailed to victory for the local club in the first race of the regatta Saturday and Chuck Breath scored a second and Harry Chapman a fifth place in Sunday's final race. No local skippers were able to finish high in the standings in the second and third races, however.

Reeves, Breath, and Chapman each received a trophy as awards were presented to the six top skipper in each race. Other first place winners were Tommy Kemp and Balar Holland of Biloxi and George Hopkins, Jr., of Gulfport.

Bay-Waveland finished last in Chapman race

After grabbing an early lead with a victory in the first race, Bay-Waveland Yacht Club finished fourth place last weekend in the annual Chapman Trophy Regatta at Gulfport.

Dick Reeves sailed to victory for the local club in the first race of the regatta Saturday and Chuck Breath scored a second and Harry Chapman a fifth place in Sunday's final race. No local skippers were able to finish high in the standings in the second and third races, however.

BEATING A HANDICAP - Fourteen-year-old Pat Murphy, whose right arm has been crippled since he was stricken with polio when he was three, and two Red Cross senior lifesavers, Davey Smith and Richard Schaefer, who helped him complete requirements for junior lifesaving skills at Camp Onward pool this spring while Mrs. P. E. Porter, Jr., water safety director, instructed a senior life saving class.

Nine complete senior lifesaving

Nine young people have completed requirements for their American Red Cross senior lifesaving badges during a two-week course conducted at Camp Onward pool by Mrs. P. E. Porter, Jr., ARC water safety director.

They are Linda Hamilton, Jim Lodner, Sue Porter, Tom Mayfield, Allison Trelles, Tommy Benigno, Hope Sewell, Gautier Mayfield and Wordie Carroll. The training will enable them to assist with the summer water safety program conducted by the Hancock County chapter. In addition four senior lifesavers, Davey Smith, Richard Schaefer, Gall Stewart and Virgil Benigno will attend aquatic school June 4-14 at Shelby State Park.

Beginners' swim classes open on the Bay St. Louis municipal dock Monday and continue for three weeks while the advanced beginners and intermediates class runs the next two weeks.

Around The Corner

If our foresight were as good as our hindsight, most of our problems would find simple solution. But no one ever knows for sure what is just around the corner.

It is this uncertainty that prompts so many thrifty persons to save a portion of their earnings. Individual savings in the USA reached a peacetime peak in 1962 of $20 billion. Total savings in currency, bank deposits and securities actually came to $12.2 billion. But deducting debts incurred by individuals, which were also at an all-time high, left a total net gain of $20 billion.

Ben Franklin, scholar and philosopher, America's foremost exponent of thrift, observed: "In this world, nothing can be said to be certain, except death and taxes." A believer in economy and an advocate of self-reliance, we can be sure that Ben Franklin was also of the opinion that most of us, sooner or later, will have need for a little money. He said, "There are three faithful friends - an old wife, an old dog, and ready cash." Referring to those who are dead broke, he said, "It is hard for an empty sack to stand upright!"

We enjoy unprecedented prosperity on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We have probably never had it so good. Compared to the 30s, we are in a boom, living in plush and thriving on clover.

The lessons of the past plainly warn us that this is a good time to salt something down for the future - a mortgage to lift children to go to college, an emergency operation or a business opportunity. Should the emergency arise, there is no comfort on earth equal to a little extra cash on deposit in your bank when it is most needed.

With a spendthrift government squandering the earnings of children unborn, annually running in the red to the tune of billions, and going deeper and deeper into debt, how fortunate we are that millions of thrifty individuals still live within their means and save. They represent that stabilizing influence so essential to our national economy, they conserve a part of our accumulating wealth, they help preserve the American System. We would do well in apprehensive times to salute the country's savers who are prepared to meet whatever may be hiding around some corner.

O. J. Key

Funeral services were May 17 for O. J. Key, 85, operator of O. J. Key Marine Supplies in New Orleans, who died the previous day at Hancock General Hospital after suffering a stroke.

Mr. Key was born in Boston, Mass., and had lived on de Montezuma Avenue here for 46 years.

He was married first to the late Josephine Usner Key of New Orleans. Surviving are his second wife, three sons, Roy Key of Memphis, Lester Key of New Orleans, O. J. Key, Jr., of Los Angeles, Calif., and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Phinney of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. G. B. Pire of Birmingham, Ala.
